

HOME RULE

WALLA WALLA

It's Time for Accountable, Responsible County Government

For this year, county commissioners voted to give themselves and other elected officials a 24.5% pay increase – paid for by local taxpayers.

Many residents are asking: Who's looking out for us?

A Home Rule Charter gives the people of Walla Walla County the power to set the rules for how our county government operates – instead of letting politicians decide for themselves.

What Home Rule Can Do

- ✔ Create checks and balances
- ✔ Increase transparency in how decisions – and pay raises – are made
- ✔ Encourage fiscal responsibility and smarter budgeting
- ✔ Let voters decide how many commissioners we have and how they're elected
- ✔ Modernize our government to reflect today's needs

Why It Matters

A Home Rule Charter means local control, accountability, and a say in how our tax dollars are spent – not automatic raises and unchecked decisions.

Let's make county government work for the people of Walla Walla, not just for itself.
